Weiler Woods for Wildlife is getting ready to schedule the last casting run for the red wolf mom and pup sculpture. We want to make sure we contact all those facilities involved with red wolf protection and recovery. To date, we have 26 castings spoken for (see attached map).

The casting is fiberglass and each is hand painted (see attached image). The dimensions are: 27" wide by 23" high by 4" deep. It weighs under 10 pounds and can be installed indoors or outdoors.

We are donating the sculpture and paying for shipping. We only require that the sculpture be installed in a public place (in a mutually agreeable timeframe) where it can be used effectively for educational purposes. We also would require appropriate signage for display of the piece.

We need to hear back from interested facilities by the end of the month to be included in this last casting run. Please contact us at loti@weilerwoods.com if you are interested or have a suggestion for additional potential candidates.
